Price Updates for Annual Conference & Membership

Each year the KansABA Executive Council review current membership and conference prices to ensure these align with KansABA's mission. That is, we want to ensure prices are not cost-prohibitive to those accessing our resources but also bring in enough revenue to support the continued work of KansABA as a 501c3 nonprofit organization. This means that any funds raised go back into the organization to support the important mission; including bringing in high quality speakers and providing at the conferences.

In support of the mission, costs for the conference and membership were combined to better capture the number of individuals served each year.
